4. Customers with characteristics of vulnerability

The Product is designed for first-time buyers, home owners and remortgagers. These groups are likely to include some customers with characteristics of vulnerability or who will experience vulnerability over time.

First-time buyers have never been through the process before, so they may have a low understanding of mortgages, the market and the homebuying process. This can lead to vulnerability characteristics related to “capability” i.e. low understanding or confidence in financial matters.

Returners, people who have once owned a property but no longer do, may have characteristics of vulnerability related to their reason for falling off the property ladder. For example, if someone had to sell their last home because of the death of a partner (life event) or as a result of a health condition, they could be or become a vulnerable customer.

Some homebuyers may have characteristics of vulnerability; people may be moving homes because of a life event that has occurred e.g. the loss of a partner, a job loss etc.

The needs, objectives and characteristics of customers with vulnerability have been considered in the design of our product and customer journey.

We have in place a framework to help customers with vulnerability.

Intermediaries should continue to comply with your obligations to ensure that you treat customers in vulnerable circumstances fairly.

Please contact us if you need any further information about how we support the needs of all our customers in relation to the Product.

5. Our assessment of value

We have developed a comprehensive and robust assessment process which evaluates several aspects of our business to determine the value of our mortgage product. This analysis is used to ascertain whether the Product delivers fair value for customers.

The outcomes of the assessment process are presented to our Customer Committee allowing for challenge and further investigation before we sign-off the outcomes and share the summary of our assessment with you.

Our fair value assessment has considered the following:

Benefits	Price	Costs	Limitations
The range of features that the Product provides, the quality of the Product, the level of customer service that is provided and any other features that the Product may offer.	The interest rates, fees and charges customers pay for the Product, comparable market rates, advice fees paid to intermediaries and non-financial costs associated with operating the Product.	The cost of funding the Product and any other reductions in costs to the customer made possible by economies of scale.	Any limitations on the scope and service we provide or the features of the Product.

Results of our assessment

Our assessment concluded that the Product continues to deliver fair value for customers in the target market for the Product.
